

Scavenger Hunt

Event Description:

Scavenger hunts, like treasure hunts after them, are informal events that everybody can participate in. They are bucket loads of fun, with students running around the campus, begging, borrowing and stealing. The list for scavenger hunts can range from straightforward to bizarre things like the feather of our national bird, photograph with the union president, a girl with seven piercings, a futch in a black shirt or a polka dotted scarf (all real examples from scavenger hunts I have participated in) The students take this game very seriously, often accosting clueless people and demanding photographs of them because their hair is of a certain shade or they are wearing Lakme's burnt rose nail paint or some such thing.
